Mud Lake couple claim men, women's gold in snowmobiling

By Bonnie Learning
The Northern Star

It may not have been their golden anniversary, but it was certainly a golden moment for Leanne and Junior Rumbolt of Team Mud Lake.

The couple claimed the gold medals in the snowmobile race yesterday afternoon, which was greeted by enthusiastic cheers and celebration at the race track by their fellow athletes.

"I didn't even know I had (the gold medal)," Leanne exclaimed to The Northern Star, just moments after crossing the finish line. "It's exciting!"

Leanne's hubby, Junior Rumbolt, was just as ecstatic about his own win earlier in the day and was super pumped that his wife placed first as well.

"It was excellent," he said.

Rounding out the medal standings for the women were Coreen Paul of Labrador City, with the silver; and Mandy Campbell of Pinsent's Arm taking the bronze.

For the men, "Little Joe" Tuglavina of Team North West River claimed the silver, while Glenn Hudson of Labrador City will be taking home the bronze.

A large crowd lined the race track for much of the day to cheer on their favourite racers, including Sara Saunders, a first time Games athlete with North West River.

"It's pretty cool," she said of the event. "I think it's something I'd be interested in doing in the future."

The snowmobile race took place yesterday, with large crowds turning out to cheer on their hometown athletes. Taking medals in the event were (from left) Little Joe Tuglavina, North West River, silver; Coreen Paul, Labrador City, silver; Junior Rumbolt, Mud Lake, gold; Leanne Rumbolt, Mud Lake, gold; Glenn Hudson, Labrador City, bronze; and Mandy Campbell, Pinsent's Arm, bronze.

Orange crush!

Cartwright claims top spots in men’s, women’s target shooting

By Bonnie Learning
The Northern Star

Team Orange – otherwise known as Cartwright – turned gold at yesterday’s Francis Campbell Memorial Target Shoot, as both the male and female competitor claimed victory.

Audrey Parady came out of the two-day event with a total score of 839, while her fellow athlete, Harris Morris, attained a total of 841 points

Rounding out the women’s medals were Frances Bell of Wabush with a total of 798 points for the silver; and Selma Normore of L’anse au Loup claiming bronze with a total of 786 points.

For the men’s event, Sam Morris of Happy Valley-Goose Bay took silver with 833 points; and Joseph Townley of North West River claimed the bronze with his 828 points. The points were accumulated in three

Rick Lewis, who was the event coordinator, as well as the sponsor of the event itself (Lewis Concrete Forming), said other than a few hiccups with results partway through the day, the snowmobile race went great.

“It went really, really good,” he said. “The track was good, the snowmobiles were identical (Arctic Cat SnoPro 600’s) and everyone seems to love this event.”

divisions: prone, standing and kneeling (or sitting).

A large crowd was on hand to watch the event over the two days at the shooting range on North West River road.

Randy Best of Mud Lake said the conditions were good on Tuesday.

“There was a little bit of a sidewind...ah... I can’t go makin’ excuses – I was just a bad shot!” he laughed.

This was Randy’s first Games, noting he filled in for the original target shooter prior to the Games getting underway.

“This is not my thing,” he quipped. “(But) it’s a lot of fun.”

Super snowshoeing!

Lab City dominates snowshoe event

By Chissy Chiasson
The Northern Star

Labrador City took the snowshoeing races by storm on Tuesday!

The snowshoe finals took place yesterday at the MMC Sportsplex, with Lab City stealing the show - they will be going home with two gold medals, one silver and one bronze in the singles, and gold in the relay.

“Oh my god, I was pumped!” said Devon Ryan, who claimed the gold in the men’s event. “I was ecstatic and to turn around to see my team mate come second, I was even more pumped then.”

The men’s top three results are as follows:

Place	Name	Community	Time
1	Devon Ryan	Labrador City	4.3537
2	Jonathan Davis	Labrador City	4.4253
3	Neko Brown-Dyson	Cartwright	4.4475

Medal winners in the snowshoe relay were (left) Team Cartwright for silver; Team Labrador City for gold; and Team Happy Valley-Goose Bay for bronze. (Photos by Chissy Chiasson/The Northern Star).

“I feel really good for my coach, it’s a good feeling,” said women’s champ Makalia Hudson.

The women’s top three results are as follows:

Place	Name	Community	Time
1	Makalia Hudson	Labrador City	3.0084
2	Effie Powell	Charlottetown	3.2453
3	Taylor Ryan	Labrador City	3.3743

There was much excitement and energy prior to the relay, and as the teams lined up the anticipation grew. They all took off like bullets, the crowds went wild and the times were incredible! Despite the dropping temperatures, everyone was in good spirits. Labrador City took the gold (Devon Ryan, Jonathan Davis, Makalia Hudson, Taylor Ryan), followed by Cartwright with silver (Neko Brown-Dyson, Richard Lewis, Claire Sainsbury, Hailey Dyson-Hamel); and Happy Valley-Goose Bay with bronze (Chris Attwood, Kevin Garneau-Begin, Kimberly Casey, Kelly Way).test

Makalia Hudson claimed gold in the women’s event.

Devon Ryan claimed gold in the men’s event.

Some super special snowshoers!

By Chrissy Chiasson
The Northern Star

The day was cold, but some extraordinary athletes warmed the hearts of the spectators at the MMC Sportsplex snowshoe venue yesterday, as the Howling Huskies Special Olympics team took to the track.

Their enthusiasm and spirit was contagious and everyone was filled with joy to watch these athletes take to the starting line - they definitely had the biggest support system and loudest cheering section!

The College of the North Atlantic welding class created custom walkers with skis so that more athletes could participate in the snowshoe races. Terry's Tents also helped make special padded seats for their Snow Coaches, which created a more comfortable ride for the athletes. It created a lot of hype for the Howling Huskies, their family members and the coaches.

"I'm very excited to see them race," said Debbie Russell, Special Olympics Coach, prior to the event.

Along with all the excitement of the races, the Howling Huskies had a special visitor - CBC's Here and Now's Ryan Snoddon. He spent some time with the athletes and participated in a few races with them.

"I'm very excited to be snowshoeing," said athlete Lyle Woodrow. "I've been practicing a lot and I'm dedicating the race to my worker that passed away, Velda Morris."

Athlete Alvina Blake also expressed her excitement about the race, saying she felt good about participating in the race.

Gail King, sister of athlete Jeannie Walsh, said, "I'm very proud to watch my sister in the Special Olympics and I'm very happy that they included the Special Olympics."

It's all about R-E-S-P-E-C-T...

During the Labrador Winter Games, Violence Prevention Labrador will be carrying out a Respect Campaign. Through sport, we can make significant, positive impacts on those around us. A "difference maker" is an individual who has positively impacted an athlete's life (in any aspect).

Difference Maker – Jocelyn Hancock

I know I'd never be able to thank her enough for all of her unconditional support and motivation, but my nan, Jocelyn Hancock, has impacted my life so much throughout sports and so many other things as well.

She's been there since day one, whether it was pushing me to get off the couch and go for a run, or just encouraging me to just do my best. She was there through it all. It feels so good to have someone who cares so much about your accomplishments and always encourages you to try and reach your goals, and I'm lucky enough to have that.

I felt so grateful to have her with me at my first skiing provincials, and I'll be forever thankful for all the motivation she's gave me to that point. Even though I was super nervous, I knew that - no matter what - she'd be proud of me.

No matter what mood I was in, or how I was feeling at certain days, she was always there encouraging me to do my best, and letting me know that I could do whatever I set my mind to.

I know I'm still young and I have so much more to face, but if I continue to get your love and support though sports and life, I'm all set. There was no possible way that I could have made it this far without you, and I wouldn't ever be able to go any further without you.

Everyone needs a positive person in their life that continues to support them no matter what. It's hard doing things on your own, and it makes everything so much easier when you have someone behind you always pushing you to do your best. Having people who have such high respect for you can really help you accomplish big things.

I thought I was lucky having you in my family, but I'm even luckier having you as my coach and my motivator.

Max's spirit lives on at the Labrador Winter Games!

The Winters's family were delighted at the opening ceremonies on Sunday, as they posed for photo with their beloved husband/father/grandfather's komatik box, which was on display at the ceremonies. Max passed away in October of 2015, and was an icon of the Games, especially with his beloved Labrathon! "Maxville" will miss its name sake this Games, but his spirit will live on through his family and supporters!
